Son X
OCTAVIA

An interactive sound device for swings.

The Son-X Octavia is an interactive sound device that brings traditional swings into the digital age – encouraging children to spend more time playing outdoors. It can be fastened on any swing chain and offers staff at kindergartens and schools as well as community planners the possibility to upgrade play equipment to a new, exciting level.

AUDIO GAMES.

The product includes three interactive audio games that can be played by children from a young age. After a certain time on the swing and/or when the child reaches a certain height he or she is rewarded, i.e. with a sound experience. This motivates the child to stay on the swing in order to reach the next level, which may trigger more sounds.

AWAKENS CURIOSITY.

The Son-X Octavia combines modern, interactive technology with traditional outdoor recreation. It awakens the child's curiosity to explore new possibilities through physical activity.

Can be attached to any swing.

The Son-X Octavia runs on solar power, which means there is no need for cables on the playground. The solar cell panels are placed on top of the product and work even in cloudy conditions. There are speakers placed internally and positioned downwards so that the sounds can only be heard in the proximity of the user, which enhances the experience.
